Hello my name is Ross Gibbs, I am an undergraduate student at Michigan State University working on a project discussing the social implications, and the effects we may see on Commercial and Recreational markets do to the North Pacific Garbage Patch, or more generally the effects of plastics in the ecosystem. I'm interested in gathering stakeholders observations, projections, and future predictions on short and long term implications that this may have on the fisheries and the ecosystem as a whole. I believe the Pacific Fisheries Management Council would supply a great voice for my research and I would truly value hearing back for you. Thank you for your time and the work you are doing.
